Clearing Out the Cloak Floor.

TE CAN'T do it this week and we won't be through with the task by NEXT week. But we SHALL put in our sturdiest efforts during these days of snap and blow and shiver and freeze-while the winds have sharpness enough to tint your cheeks-while you can feel the urgent need of an outer garment-while we can have our arguments backed up in the most convincing manner by Dame Nature herself. Not that we need corroborative influence to move such a stock as this. There's too much style about the garments we offer you and too much cut about the prices. For we've reduced here and slashed there-we've, sacrificed profit and we've dug deep into every cost, till the garmen's below stand on a footing that is less than prevailing market qualations.

100 very fine tailor-made cloth jackets. The fronts have a pronounced box effect and are set off with four buttons. The seams, front and back, are bandasomely braided. Some are in black, some in Oxford gray. You never saw garments as fine as these anywhere at less than $7.50. $2.00 Monday we'll clear 'em out at.

A short lot (probably some 40 jackets in all) of Kersey garments in black and gray. They haven't been in the department over a month. Our with notched collars. One-half silk lined. You never wore a better $7 coat. They go for clearance tomorrow at Extraordinarily fine coats in this next lot. Each jacket is made tailor. The cloths are surpassingly fine. The coats are lined with heavy all silk satin. Strap seams on each one. The buttons are handsome mother of pearl. Tomorrow we'll reduce 'em from $10 and $12-browns, navys, tans and black in the lot-to.

You can come into the department and choose any $12.50, $15, or Fig.10 jacket in sight; you can pick over the finer grades of Kerseys and Meltons and boucles. Choose from silk and satin lined garments. Select any style that suits your fancy and all you'll be asked in Every jacket that was marked $17.50 or $15.58, or $20, or $22.50. Any shade, any style, any finish. All cloths—garments that show to what extremes of goodness tailoring can reach. All are yours at....

We'll cut the price of the extremely costly garments exactly in haif. Temorrow take your unreserved pick of silk velvet, velour, electric seal and astrakhan jackets of all sorts and descriptions—it'll be hard to find one that sold at less than $39-for ...

25 very fine 20-inch Plush expos, lined and interlined and $2.98 handsumely trimmed with fur. $7.50 has been their price.....

$10 real astrabhan einth capes. With a very broad sweep. The $4.98 fabric has a long, silky curl. All the garments are satin lined. They were $15. Cut to 25 French seal collarettes with astrakhan yokes. And an equal number of plain astrakhan collarettes reduced from $5.50 and $6.75 $2.98

The Extension of Streets an Important Question.

Belay in Flooring the Aqueduct Bridge-Other Items of Interest From Across Rock Creck.

The publication last week in The Evening Times of an article on the contemplated formation of a Business Mon's Asso ciation in Georgetown has attracted general interest and discussion among the residents of the entire district which lies to the west of Rock Creek. In this connection, Judge W. A. Cummings, said this

"All the property owners who have been for years contributing to the public treasure chest feel that the organizing of a body of representative active workers will serve as a means to accomplish an end, in neuof the heretofore individual efforts, which have resulted in rather unnosticeable im-provements from the standpoint of the public welfare and progress.

"One of the important and early considerations for such an association would be the extension of streets or, rainer, the joining of the loose ends of several of the joining of the loose ends of several of the streets ending abruptly at Rock Creek, Recentiy a member of the District Commit-tee expressed himself in favor of having the creek bridged at Q Street or some other connection made, in order to open up the locality and give the residents a proper means of communication with the city.

"The association would also undoubtedly take up the question of street improve-ments and the replacing of noisy and rough granite block surfaces by something more suggestive of comfort in driving.

"The completion of the new Western High School, at Thirty-lifth Street, and the New Cut Road, serves as a further incentive to something being done immediately toward connecting East and West George The popularity of the Conduit Road as a driveway and its maintenance by the Government, the subdivision and growth of the properties in Tenleytown and along the Palisades of the Potomae and Great Falls River, the expected revival of fac-tory and railroad business and the brilliant luture of Georgetown as a great coal shiping station, by reason of the conversion of the Chesapeake and Ohio Capai into a railway - with the consequent increase in population and building, and, in short, a ue consideration of the actual needs of the whole section, all combine to necessitate the formation of the association.

The flooring for nearly a year has been in a deplorable condition and has been fruitful of much complaint from persons who are compelled to cross the bridge. The contractors have pleaded as their excuse the fact that lumber necessary for the laying of the floor could only be obtained in Georgia and that the were waiting for the lumber to reach Washington. Richard Williams, a sixteen-year-old colored boy, was arrested last night by Officer Connor charged with petit larceny. The complainant in the case is Mrs. Fran-ces C. Tucker, who keeps a small grocery store at the corner of Twenty-sixth and P Streets. Mrs. Tucker claims that she left the store for a minute or two Monday afternoon to go to her rooms in the back part of the building. While she was away Richard came into the store, and, seeing no one, made way with the money drawer, containing over $4 in change. Mrs. Tucker came into the store in time to ge a good idea of the thief's appearance, but was unable to step him. The police were notified and after a search succeeded in apprehending Williams. The stolen money was not recovered.

James Brooks, a young co'or-d man twenty-two years old, attended a parlor social given last night by one of his friends in that section of town near the canal known as Boston, and through sheer absent-mindedness forgot to leave his pistol at home. One of his friends named J. A. Davis knew that Brooks had a pis-tol, and having the welfare of his friend uppermost in his mind, reported the mat-ter to the police. Officer Smith took Brooks to the station, where a charge of carrying concealed weapons was paced against his name.

Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean.

MAKE A TEST OF STUART'S DYS-PEPSIA TABLETS.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsis. People having it think their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicines. The real seat of the mischief is lost sight of. The stomach is the organ to be looked after. Nervous dyspeptics often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsis shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every organ. In some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected, in others the bowels are constipated, with head-

THINGS THEATRICAL.

The performance of "Jim, the Penman." given last night at the Grand Opera House by the Lyceum Theatre Stock Company, brought to the fore six very clever-players. It also served to introduce several who were not so elever, and a number whose merit proved to be distinctly of a minus quantity. Further than this it evidenced the fact that it is not a bad idea for actors to know their lines before attempting to speak them Beyond this the rendering given Charle Young's old piece was not notable-neith er especially bad nor especially good. Oc-casionally, through admirable stage di-rection and individual worth, the production exhibited considerable strength, but more often the weaknesses named were predominant. The entire presentation was creditable for one being given at popular prices but deserved in no way to e rated as a first-class attraction.

In the cust, the Misses Kennark and Franklyn deserved the most praise. Mr. Winter was also good and Mr. Cooper's Baron was notable, though more for virtues of omission than of commission. Mr. Albaugh and Miss Bradley competed the list of clever people aforementioned. Mr. Flood was much too heavy for the tite role, and Mr. Grattan played the part of the extraordinarily constant gentleman in the worst possible way. Others who appeared without exciting any sensation other than weariness were Messrs. Dwysr, Craven, Binford, Slater and Wahle. "The Senator" will be the bill tonight.

MEDALS FOR FEMALE NURSES Special Honors for Misses Chanler and Pouligny.

Miss Margaret Livingston Chanler and Miss Anna Bouligny will be presented with go d medals by special act of Congress, in recognition of their work for ill and wounded soldiers in Porto Rico, if the recommendations of the War Department are arried out. The propriety of suitable recognition by ongress of the valuable work of young women was first suggested by a let-ter from Col. Sharpe, of the Commissary Department in Porto Rico, to Col. Black, of the Engineer Corps. Col. Black sent Col. Sharpe's letter to the headquarters of the army with an indorsement in which recited the services of Miss Chanler and iss Bouligny.

Col. Black said the young women landed from a transport on July 31, and at once began caring for the ill in Ponce, in connection with the Spanish Red Cross. Entire charge of the nursing was soon in their hands. Miss Chanler hired a house for use as a hospital. It was too small and she hired a larger one, to which she afterward

Misses Chanler and Bouligny remained until September 7, caring for officers and men with no assistance except that of un-trained soldiers and Porto Rican servants. Prained nurses arrived on September 7 and the hospite's were turned over to them, Miss Chauler providing means for continu-ing the rental and running expenses. Gen. Miles forwarded the letter to the Secretary of War with a very appreciative indorsement, and Secretary Alger added his approval and sent it to Congress.
